I. Policy Summary
Students pursuing the MD degree at UCR SOM are physicians in training who must meet standards of professional conduct and responsibility to develop into effective physicians. As a professional school, UCR SOM requires attendance and active participation in all components of the curriculum. Active participation in the school’s course and clerkship activities indicates the student’s understanding and mastery of professional responsibilities. The granting of the MD degree attests to the fact that the student has demonstrated a commitment to their professional responsibilities through participation in all aspects of the curriculum as defined by the faculty.

II. Definitions
A. Lecture – An instruction or verbal discourse by a speaker before a large or small group of learners.

B. Active Learning – An approach to instruction in which students engage with material by doing things that directly enable them to reflect on, synthesize, and apply the concepts being taught. Active learning can occur in a variety of settings, including the classroom, the clinical environment and/or on-line. Active learning is not defined by the number of students involved and can be used to engage students individually and within small or large group environments. The various types of instruction which are identified as active learning methodologies are listed below.

III. Policy Text
When it is necessary for students to be absent from a required MD program activity, students must approach such absences with the same standard of professional responsibility required of practicing physicians; professional responsibility extends to one’s patients and members of one’s team.

Medical students are encouraged to maintain their physical and mental well-being, seeking resources, including accessing health care services in order to do so. Medical students may be excused from required educational activities for scheduled medical, dental, therapy, and counseling appointments. Students are not required to disclose the nature or type of appointment. Students are required to notify their course/clerkship coordinators and directors of the time and/or date of their absence.

V. Procedures
A. Years 1 and 2
   1. Attendance and Scheduling
      a. Attendance is not required at lecture sessions in first- and second-year courses but is strongly recommended.
      b. Attendance is required at all active learning sessions (both small or large groups) because collaborative participation occurs, and it is expected that each student will apply knowledge and practice skills during these educational activities. Social accountability is critical to students' professional identity formation and the practice of medicine.
      i. The following instructional methods are classified as “active learning” versus “not active learning”:

ii. Student attendance is mandatory at all laboratory sessions, case-based learning (CBM) modules, clinical skills and doctoring sessions, and longitudinal ambulatory care experiences (LACE).

iii. Student attendance is mandatory at sessions where a presentation by a patient to students tells or recounts the patient’s experience (e.g., Patient Presentation – Patient).

iv. Block Directors may designate additional sessions as required in the course syllabus (e.g., guest lecturers) with approval of the Associate Dean of Pre-clerkship Curriculum.

v. Attendance will be taken at all required educational activities.

2. School Holidays
   a. Instructional sessions are not scheduled on official UC school holidays as indicated on the Academic Calendar.

3. Anticipated Absences
   a. Examples of anticipated absences include religious holidays, weddings, pre-scheduled medical and dental appointments, jury duty, presentation at or leadership position at a conference, etc.

b. In order to request a planned anticipated absence:
   i. Students should first contact the Pre-Clerkship Coordinator and Block Director, who will approve or disapprove the request on a case-by-case basis. All requests for planned absences should be submitted at least 45 days prior to the absence. A student who does not agree with the Block Director’s decision may appeal to the Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs.
   ii. The Block Director approving or disapproving the anticipated absence will sign the “Request for Approved Absence (MS1, 2 and 3) Form” and then submit to the Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs for final review and approval.
   iii. While it is not possible to delineate how each request will be decided, every effort will be made to make decisions consistent with UCR policies.
   iv. Students will not be allowed to miss scheduled exams, labs, and LACE clerkship responsibilities unless approved by the Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs.
   v. If an anticipated absence request is approved, the student must work with the appropriate course instructor(s) and Block Director(s) to determine the times and dates to complete the required educational experiences and/or rescheduled examinations. All rescheduled examinations will occur after the scheduled exam, not before.
   vi. Students who do not adhere to this policy may be referred to the professionalism committee.

c. Anticipated healthcare appointments - When it is necessary for medical students to attend medical, dental, therapy, or counseling appointments, they will be excused from required educational activities.
   i. Students who have a medical care appointment that is scheduled in advance should submit the “Request for Approved Absence (MS1, 2, and 3)” form to the pre-clerkship coordinator or block coordinator with final Review and approval by the Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs.
d. Jury duty - If a student is summoned for jury duty, they should complete the "Document Request Form – Current Students Form" and submit it, along with a copy of the juror summons, to the Registrar. The Registrar will provide an enrollment verification letter that can be presented to the court to request an extension of service.

e. Medical students who present their research at professional development meetings may be granted three consecutive days (e.g., a travel day and presentation day) at the discretion of the Block Course Director and the Senior Associate Dean for Student Affairs. Graduate students who present their research at professional meetings may be granted three consecutive days (e.g., a travel day and presentation day) at the discretion of the Block Course Director and the Director of Biomed Graduate Program. Medical and graduate students will only be granted a maximum of two absences to present at a research conference per academic year. Students are strongly encouraged to submit a "Request for Approved Absence (MS1, 2, and 3)" form as soon as possible even if they have not yet received confirmation that their research presentation has been accepted by the conference committee.

f. Students who represent UCR SOM in a leadership position at a conference may be granted time off for the full duration of the meeting at the discretion of the Senior Associate Dean for Student Affairs.

4. Unanticipated Absences
   a. Typical unanticipated absences may include acute illness, death of an immediate family member, automobile breakdown, etc.
   b. Students who are acutely ill in the preclinical years will be allowed a total of two days of absences per 6-month period (i.e. August-December and January-June) without requiring a written doctor's note. This also applies to days that are not consecutive (e.g., if a student misses one day in October and another day in December, any additional excused days will require a doctor's note regardless of the length of absence). Unanticipated absences are NOT intended to be used as "at will free days" to be excused from required classes without an appropriate cause.
   c. In order to request short-term emergency or unanticipated absence:
      i. Students should first contact the Pre-Clerkship Coordinator and Block Director, who will approve or disapprove the request on a case-by-case basis.
      ii. The Block Director will sign the Request for Approved Absence (MS1, 2 and 3) form and then submit to the Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs for final review and approval.
      iii. While it is not possible to delineate how each request will be decided, every effort will be made to make decisions consistent with UCR policies.
      iv. If the request is approved, the student must work with the appropriate course instructor(s) and Block Director(s) to determine the times and dates of the required educational experiences and/or rescheduled examinations. All rescheduled examinations will occur after the scheduled exam, not before.

5. Requests for video recorded or streamed access to missed required in-person attendance sessions will only be considered for students that are in quarantine for any public health emergency declared by federal, state, and/or local health agencies (e.g., COVID-19, Monkeypox or other emerging communicable diseases exposure or infection), if possible and if consent is given by the live participants. Students requesting video recorded or streamed access to past, present or future required in-person attendance sessions for other reasons will be denied. Students requesting consideration of video alternatives for required in-person attendance sessions citing all other chronic health conditions will only be granted after assessment and approval by the Student Disability Resource Center (SDRC), and if approved, accommodations are not retroactive.

6. Absences that exceed 25% of the total number of required sessions per specific category (e.g. Doctoring, LACE, etc.) in each block will require make up.

7. Unexcused absences
   a. Unexcused absences will be reported and may result in a professionalism referral by the Block Director or Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs.

   b. Students may be allowed up to 2 days of anticipated absences per 6-month block during the 3rd year.
   c. Students must request time off for anticipated absences:
      i. Students must submit a "Request for Approved Absence (MS1, 2 and 3)" form to the appropriate Clerkship Coordinator at least 45 days prior to the start of the anticipated absence. Submission of a request does not constitute approval.
      ii. All anticipated absences must next be approved by the Clerkship Director 30 days prior to the start of the requested time off. The Clerkship Director may require additional documentation before considering approval of absences.
      iii. Once approved or disapproved by the Clerkship Director, the request will be forwarded to the Senior Associate Dean of Student Affairs for final review and approval, at which point the student will be notified of the decision. The excuse is not approved until this step has been completed.
   d. Anticipated healthcare appointments - When it is necessary for medical students to attend medical, dental, therapy, or counseling appointments, they will be excused from required educational activities.
